Wall Gives Stand On COP Trip; Does Not Favor Student Leaders

Voicing the opinion of the Student Council, Tom Wall, ASB president, today attempted to clarify the misunderstanding concerning the proposed train trip to the College of Pacific game next week.

Wall said that the Student Council felt the present situation rises out of a misunderstanding between the College Life committee and the Rally committee.

Explaining that the College Life committee was an informal group last spring and kept no minutes, Wall said that the committee now faced the difficult task of recalling to mind conversations which took place four months ago. He said, however, that the Rally committee has not given adequate consideration to the task which they are trying to perform.

"As president of the ASB," Wall explained, "it is my responsibility to safeguard the associated students in every way possible. With that in mind, is it not better to send as many of the students as possible to COP on a train or on other public transportation than to allow them to proceed at their own risk? Any accident that occurs during the excursion reflects upon the college, the ASB and each individual connected with the college."

Wall said that he believed that the responsibility to control conduct lies with each individual student if public transportation is used. He said that the trip is being paid for by individual students and that he personally feels that the burden should not be placed on the shoulders of a few individuals with a "consequent relaxation of all the inhibitions of the group."

Two One-Act Plays Scheduled For Nov.

Don Pearlman will play the part of "Yank" in the one-act play, "Bound East For Cardiff," announced Elizabeth Loeffler, director of acting laboratory classes in the Speech and Drama department.

The play will be produced in the Studio Theater Nov. 18 at 3:30. Ed Williams is student director of the production.

Others in the cast include Bill Furnell, Nick Lickwar, Bob Rein-king, Bob DeBoid, Bob Barmettler, Wayne Mitchell, Hal Upson, Warren Blomseth and John Hayden.

Another one-act will be produced the same date, with Joe Roberts as student-director. It is "The Noble Lord," and has three persons in the cast: Annamae Az-zarello, James Jensen and Russell Scimeca, according to Miss Loeffler.

Skiers Hear Noted Sports Instructor

Ski enthusiasts applauded guest speaker Mr. John Litchfield, famous ski instructor of Sun Valley, Monday evening in room S112, according to Miss Althea Floid, club treasurer. Litchfield showed two movies taken at the well-known resort.

"The first meeting drew a larger crowd than we anticipated," Miss Floid declared.

A short business meeting followed the address by Litchfield.

An invitation was extended to all present to turn out for the next meeting (to be announced later). "Election of officers will be held and movies will be shown for those who wish to start the snowball rolling," Miss Floid said.

PAJAMA RALLY IS HELD TODAY

Pajama-clad Spartans will hold their rally in the Inner Quad, contrary to a previous announcement by Ed Mosher. Mosher, entertainment chairman of the Rally committee, did not disclose the reason for the change, but added that the starting time, 7:30 p.m., is correct.

"Students are encouraged to dig up their most novel bed-time attire, with their rooster's caps," says Ed Mosher. As it might be cold in the Quad, it is suggested by Mosher and Dean Dimmick that something be worn under the pajamas. "Blankets might help too," said Mosher.

"Bring your megaphones, cow bells, auto horns, sirens, steamboat whistles, strong lungs, and other noise makers. In other words," says Mosher, "be prepared to go all out for State's 'powerhouse' team."

"Card stunts will be used at the half-time during the Santa Barbara game Friday night," announced Armen Hanzad.

"The stunts are really going to be terrific," Hanzad continued, "and require a large rooting section, so all of section 'J' and half of sections 'K' and 'I' will be reserved for those wearing white shirts and rooster's caps."

Engineering Talks To Begin Monday

Professional aspects of engineering will be the objective of a series of lectures to be given by visiting lecturers in the engineering preview class in the Little Theater Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 11:30 a.m., announced Dr. Ralph J. Smith, head of the Engineering department.

Eight to ten practicing engineers have been invited by Dr. Smith to tell about the types of positions they have had and to give the students a picture of the opportunities that are open for engineers.

"All students are welcome to these lectures," stressed Dr. Smith. "There will be plenty of room in the Little Theater."

The first speaker is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 25. H. L. Morgan of the engineering staff will discuss "Service Engineering." Morgan has had six year's experience in field engineering with the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Oct. 25, Dr. William J. Warren will speak on "Development Engineering."

Nov. 3, R. O. Brosmer will discuss "Application Engineering."

Nov. 5, Hal Creed will talk on the subject of "Design Engineering."

Nov. 10, Dr. L. N. Field will lecture about "Research Engineering."

SEARCH FOR THE 'GOLDEN GIRLS' CLOSING OCT. 29

The search for seven of San Jose State's prettiest co-eds to be presented as "Golden Girls" in the 1949 La Torre is gaining momentum, with the first entries being submitted to the Journalism office early this week.

Joyce Call, sophomore from San Jose, has been selected by La Torre staff to represent the college yearbook in the campus-wide contest to select seven beauties to adorn the division pages of this year's 226-page annual.

DELTA PHI FIRST

The first departmental organization to submit an entry was Delta Phi Delta, national honorary art fraternity, who is sponsoring Trini Calvo, sophomore art major whose home is in Mt. View.

Alpha Phi, national sorority, turned in their entry yesterday, backing Sue Edwards, sophomore from Santa Cruz, to cop one of the first seven places when the judges make their final decisions Monday night, Nov. 1.

"Wait until you see the entries from the different sections of the freshman class," said Mr. Donald Sevens, frosh advisor. "We've really got some beautiful girls who will make the judges' eyes pop."

LA TORRES LIMITED

"With State's colors being gold and white, it's a natural to go with the California Centennial theme, and we really intend to make it a golden year with the 'seven golden numbers,'" proclaimed La Torre Co-editor Bob Moon, who stressed the fact that there will only be 2000 copies of the '49 La Torre available for a student body of 7000, on a first-come, first-served basis.

"We are extremely fortunate to have the services of Mr. George Stone again on this year's book," Moon pointed out. Anyone who saw the artistic colored photographs taken by Mr. Stone for the '48 La Torre will be looking forward to his photographs of the seven lucky girls chosen as "Golden Girls."

SUBMIT ENTRIES NOW

Co-editors James Mapes and Moon urged all sororities and co-educational organizations to submit their entries as soon as possible, since the deadline is Friday, Oct. 29. "We tried to send entry blanks to every sorority, departmental, religious and social club on campus," Moon and Mapes revealed, "but if any group wishing to sponsor a candidate did not receive an entry blank in its organization box in the Coop, one may be obtained from the secretary in the Journalism office, or by contacting us. This contest is open to every girl on campus and we want each girl to have a chance."

Rosenga Elected By Silver Sabers

The Silver Saber society unanimously elected Al Rosenga vice president at the society's last meeting. Rosenga replaces Francis Wildman, who is on inactive status this quarter.

Richard Glenn and George Steele were nominated for the office of assistant treasurer. Elections will be held next Tuesday.

EX-SPARTAN VIRGINIA RANDOLPH HOLDS SOLO ART SHOW AT LODI

Former Spartan Virginia Randolph has achieved the distinction of a one-man art show in the Lodi public library auditorium. Exhibited for a month's run are 29 paintings in water colors and oils of Lodi, Monterey, and Pescadero locales done by Miss Randolph.

The Lodi News-Sentinel calls the young artist's work "unerring in a sense of color values and a certainty of draughtsmanship. She excels in her water color work."

In a note to Dr. Marques Reitzel, art director, Miss Randolph expressed a desire to study in Mexico which would be facilitated by the sale of most of her paintings now on display in her show.

Before leaving San Jose State college, Miss Randolph majored in commercial art for two years.

NRO Applications Due November 15

Applications for appointment in the Naval Reserve Officers Training corps in the fall semester of 1949-50 must be in by Nov. 15, according to Mrs. Lillian E. Scott, assistant registrar. Applications may be obtained in the General Education office, room 110.

COMMUNIST-LED TROOPS ATTEMPT KOREAN REVOLT

SEOUL (UP)—Nearly 4000 Communist-led constabulary troops attempted to overthrow the South Korean government as Russia began a withdrawal of its forces from the northern occupation zone.

President Syngman Rhee called an emergency cabinet meeting to cope with the rebellion, and is expected to declare martial law. It is possible Rhee will call on U.S. Army forces to assist in checking the uprising.

The Soviet troops are reported abandoning their border outposts, although it is believed that they are leaving behind them a native army of 200,000.

Battle Tempo Increased In Palestine

TEL AVIV (UP)—The Israeli and Egyptian Commands threw all available forces into battle in Southern Palestine yesterday in an attempt to seize as much ground as possible before a United Nations cease-fire order goes into effect.

Cabinet Meets In Power Emergency

PARIS (UP)—The French cabinet was called into urgent session yesterday to consider the serious shortage of gas, electricity and water resulting from the 17-day Communist-led strike of 350,000 coal miners.

U. N. Committee Endorses Atomic Plan

PARIS, Oct. 20 (UP)—The United Nations Political committee overwhelmingly endorsed the Western Plan for control of atomic energy as a necessary basis for eventual elimination of atomic weapons. Only the Soviet bloc objected.

'Nothing New In Shooting,' Say Police

"Nothing new on the Swanson shooting," was the local Police department's answer to the Spartan Daily's regular press-time query early this morning. Latest development is the location of a suspect in Eureka, who was reported as only tentatively identified by one of the victims as the maddened gunman who clubbed her and shot Claudine Swanson in two holdup attempts last week.

Meanwhile, Miss Swanson, sophomore education major who was seriously wounded by three gunshots from the bandit, is reported as being "well on the road to recovery."

FACULTY'S FAILURE?

The College Life committee has, in its refusal to recommend a train trip to Lodi for the big College of Pacific game, demonstrated a lack of faith in the work of the Administration.

Definitely a part of education is the conversion of children into mature, well-behaved adults. The Committee evidently thinks the faculty of San Jose State has failed in this respect. They have refused to approve and recommend the trip unless definite proof is given that there will be no misbehavior whatsoever.

That shows also a bit of narrow thinking, demanding such extensive control. Even the Army, with officers, non-coms, military police and the all-encompassing threat of the Articles of War, could not enforce complete behavior on troop movements, nor would a commanding officer care to guarantee 100 per cent good behavior.

Yet such is the order put before Rally Committee Chairman Al Raffaelli. "Put up proof that there will be no misbehavior or no train trip," or words to that effect. Securing such proof is an impossibility and it looks like the College Life committee might perhaps be passing the buck on an unpopular decision, by trying to shift responsibility with an impossible request.

The only possible way of guaranteeing behavior even with armed guards would be to have faith in the students themselves. If the faculty has no faith in their pupils, then it is not the pupils who are at fault. Remember, though, approval of the trip without demanding impossible proofs is not weakness, it is demonstration of faith in the teachings of the faculty and in their pupils.

SPARTAN ADVENTURER LAUDS OREGON STATE, SCENERY AND WOMEN

By PAUL DAVIS

To all of you who seek to pass a summer painlessly but profitably, I hold up for your inspection the Oregon Caves and the immediate surrounding area.

The setting for these caves, which are today a national monument, is 4000 feet high in the Siskiyou mountain range that dominates southwestern Oregon. The nearest town of any importance is Grant's Pass and is a long 50 miles away. Anyone who knows Grant's Pass at all probably will be horrified at the above statement, but our contacts at the caves with "G. P." are limited to purchases at the local food markets. The caves are also a winding 20 miles off U.S. highway 101, and require great skill, and an iron clad digestive system of the casual visitor so that they may be reached comfortably.

SPARTANS ON HAND

Enough for the surroundings, because anyone up for the duration will see little indeed of them. The caves themselves are in a compound that is known officially as the Oregon Caves Resort. There is a hotel there, and a souvenir store as well as those magnificent halls of "white" marble.

Eager beaver college students from Oregon, California, and other states staff the hotel, the store, and are used as guides in the caves. It was my privilege to JOIN their ranks last summer along with three other Spartan students, and JOIN in the great game of "Meet the Traveling Public."

MANY JOBS AVAILABLE

There is a great variety in jobs. Girls worked in the coffee shop and dining room, handed overalls to those who undertook the cave trip, and cared for the very young who could not make it through. Men on the other hand served as bell boys in the hotel, cave guides, pot-washers in the kitchen, or STAFFED the maintenance STAFF.

Guides had the roughest deal. They neither shared in the fabulous tips of the bell-boys, one v.p. of General Motors tipped $7 for a job that required the hoisting of three bags up a flight of stairs, nor joined in the raucous fun that constantly disrupted the kitchen staff. Guides had to cart about seven parties a day composed of 16 each through the two-mile-long trip.

After completing the seven-hour day, we were left on our own, and being 20 miles off the highway this was almost literally true. No one had a car with him, and rides down were few and far between. This had its advantages, however. There are plenty of places to hike, and there are no bill boards, Burma-Shave signs, or neon lights . . . just miles and miles of Douglas fir, and spectacular scenery.

When tired of the scenery there were always the girls . . . three of them to every male. A veritable paradise, after two years at San Jose State. The only trouble is that it soothes you into a false sense of security, and your morale really sinks when you get back home and find that your status as a lover is still .000.

Forget the pay angle. You won't find it comparable to Baron-Gray, but with nothing at all to buy you will save as much, if not more than you would while at home. Occasional money will go out for illegal beer busts held on the trails, but the EXHILARATING element of danger makes them well worth the expense. It's a place to relax, and have fun, and save money. And, brother, that ratio!

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

Edited by BOB BODEN

'Labor In Danger'

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Henry A. Wallace said yesterday that recent National Labor Relations board decisions proved that "the entire free labor movement will be destroyed" unless the Taft-Hartley law is repealed and a stronger Wagner act put into effect.

Wallace made a new attack on the Taft-Hartley law in a statement issued here on the final day of his four-week, 9500-mile aerial campaign tour of the country.

His protest against the Taft-Hartley law was based on decisions of the labor board, and a trial examiner forbidding peaceful mass picketing.

"The utter dishonesty of politicians who try to create the impression that the Taft-Hartley act was to protect workers is revealed by these decisions," Wallace said. "They establish without any doubt that the entire free labor movement will be destroyed unless the Taft-Hartley law is completely reversed and a strengthened Wagner act and anti-injunction act are put into effect."

Warren All Wet

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 20 (UP)—Gov. Earl Warren of California, where it sometimes rains, won the respect of Miami's embarrassed citizens last night when an "unusual" tropical downpour drenched the American Legion's long parade.

Warren sat wetly on the reviewing stand with National Commander James F. O'Neill, sticking to the last while Floridians and visitors scurried for shelter.

The California Governor grinned all the time. He grinned widest when a soggy California delegation sloshed through inches of water past the reviewing stand to the tune of "California, Here I Come."

"He looks too darn delighted," grumbled one Miami official. But most agreed the Governor was "A good sport."

Warren, Republican candidate for vice-president, is here for a "non-political" talk before the Legion convention today.

Juniors To Meet

Junior class will meet today at 3:30 in the Student Union. Preliminary plans for the Junior prom will be under discussion. A recommendation will be made to the ASB council to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Shirley Tallman.

SJS GUNNERY STUDENTS SAVE $6000 YEARLY BY RELOADING SHELLS

By CARL HOLMBERG

A savings of $6000 yearly is made by police students using equipment costing $90, according to Willard E. Schmidt, head of the police school.

The equipment, brought to SJS in 1945 by Schmidt, is used to reload shell casings that have been salvaged from the practice range. Since each student fires 1500 rounds in practice per quarter and a carton of 50 shells costs $3.25, it is necessary to reload each shell up to five times to cut down practice costs. Shells are .38 caliber.

400 STUDENTS ENROLLED

About 40 students each quarter are enrolled in advanced and beginning gunnery course. Only those in the advanced course are eligible to use the reloading equipment. Besides the savings, an excellent understanding of the fundamentals of firearms and their operation is provided by the apparatus.

RELOADING EXPLAINED

The procedure of the reloading operation is as follows:

The casing which contains the expended primer is fitted into a machine, which in one operation opens the mouth of the casing and punches out the old primer. In withdrawing the casing from the machine, a new primer is automatically seated in the case. 66

The newly primed shell case is put with other into a rack which is passed under the powder dispenser. An exact quantity of powder is measured and dumped into the case.

In the meantime, the lead bars are melted down in an electric heating pot. After melted the lead is released into bullet mold. The molten lead cools and solidifies in the mold and is released. The molten projectile is put into a machine which sizes it exactly and forces lubrication into the cannelurs in one operation. Cannelurs are grooves circling the projectile.

The lubricant is to protect the barrel of the weapon and decrease friction. Sized and lubricated, the bullet is forced into the mouth of a shell casing with powder and new primer; the bullet is ready to be fired again.

Casings can be reloaded in such a manner about five times.

The reloading equipment consists of four parts. They are sizer-lubricator, loading tool, melting pot, and form.

Police students may be seen reloading shells afternoons in the police school, B-80.

Jackson Explains Therapeutic Value Of Printing Class

The therapeutic value of printing was explained today by Hartley Jackson, printing instructor of San Jose State college.

Mr. Jackson, who gives a class in graphic arts to occupational therapy majors once each year, explained that government hospitals throughout the United States have bought nearly a million dollars worth of type and hundreds of hand presses which they use in the rehabilitation of veterans.

PRESSES GOOD FOR FIGURE

"The presses, some of them worked by hand and some by foot, have proved one of the best methods of helping cure muscles and strengthen coordination," Mr. Jackson said.

He stated that printing gave the veteran the greatest range of action than most other therapeutic treatments in the occupational field. The work done by the veteran is more personalized to him, Mr. Jackson stated.

COURSE IS VARIED

The course, called Occupational Therapy Crafts is being given twice this year, and includes not only instruction in graphic arts but reading of blue prints and plans.

Mr. Jackson explained that the girls in occupational therapy must also learn to read plans in order to help their patients complete their projects.

Most of the girls in Mr. Jackson's class are senior occupational therapy majors and at the present time have patients for whom they are caring as part of their internship.

INS News Writer Pierce To Speak At CCF Meeting

The Rev. Robert Pierce, international news correspondent and vice-president of Youth for Christ, will speak at the CCF Fellowship hour Thursday, Oct. 21, at 12:30 p.m. in room 124.

Youth for Christ, a world youth drive conducted in the interests of Christianity, will be the topic of Pierce's talk.

Pierce has circled the globe twice in the past two years, and has spent seven of the last 14 months in China. While there he produced a color news film which will be edited and televised by the International News service.

SJSC ELEVEN IS HEAVILY FAVORED OVER SANTA BARBARA FRIDAY NIGHT

Although San Jose State will be heavily favored to cop their fourth straight win against Santa Barbara Friday night at Spartan Stadium, the Gauchos may put up a much stiffer battle than expected. To date, Santa Barbara has been unimpressive in four out of five starts. They opened the season on the wrong foot by losing to

SJS RIFLE TEAM CHANGES SKED

One change has been made in the San Jose State Rifle team's schedule, announced Lt. Col. James K. Watts, team adviser.

The original schedule pitted San Jose against the Cal Aggies from Davis on Dec. 16. Due to the fact that the 16th falls in final week, the date has been shifted to April 21.

The Spartan rifle team is a member of the Northern California Intercollegiate Rifle conference, which is composed of five other teams in addition to the Spartans. Member colleges are California, Stanford, Cal Aggies, USF, Santa Clara, and San Jose State.

Col. Watts said that San Jose placed second to California in last year's competitions. He added that the Bears had the outstanding team in the nation last year.

For the first time since the rifle conference was formed, the teams will be competing for medals and a trophy, which will be awarded at the close of the season. The team placing first in the round robin schedule will receive a team trophy. If the trophy is won by the same team three years running, it will become a permanent fixture of the champions.

In addition to the regular conference matches, the San Jose State Rifle team will compete in the Sixth Army tournament and the Hearst Trophy matches. Seventy-seven teams competed in last year's Hearst matches.

Stanford Daily, Oct. 12.—Stanford university, through General Athletic Manager Alfred R. Masters, announced today a home and home football series with Harvard, beginning next year. The Harvard team will play here Sept. 24 next season, and Stanford will journey to Cambridge, Mass., for a meeting Sept. 30, 1950.

Frosh Water Polo Team To Play Paly High Today

This afternoon at 3:30, in the Palo Alto High school pool, Coach Charlie Walker's yearlings will engage the Palo Alto High school in the first of two scheduled water polo meets.

The Spartababes, winners over the California Frosh, 11-1, and the victors over the San Jose High, 12-3, should go into the game the favorite and win going away.

Friday afternoon, in the Spartan pool, the first year men play host to the Sequoia High school.

'HILL AND DALE' MEN MEET COP TIGERS FRIDAY

Sparta's cross-country squad meets the College of Pacific, Friday at 4 p.m. on the Tiger's course, according to an announcement Wednesday afternoon by Coach "Bud" Winter.

Winter had definitely decided on four of his five-man team by press time Wednesday, but the fifth spot was still undecided. Dore Purdy, winner of the Cal-Poly-San Jose State meet last Saturday, Seward Chapman, Marlon Day and Elvin are four certainties to make the trip—barring injuries. The fifth spot will be taken by one of the following men: Ted Breeden, Durwood Slater, Rudy Contreras, or Young.

The San Jose mentor says that his men can expect some real competition from the Tigers. Two of their squad are: Haney, a two-miler on last season's COP track squad, and Richesen, former Stockton Junior college two-miler, according to Winter.

DAILY CALIFORNIAN, Sept. 29—An inexperienced frosh water polo team went through its first session of the season Tuesday afternoon under the direction of Coach Art Poulin. With only one experienced hand, who was declared ineligible for varsity competition because of his freshman standing, the frosh have a hard road ahead.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

CAROLE LOMBARD

This Sunday night, Eskey productions are presenting the great Ernst Lubitsch hit, "To Be Or Not To Be." The film is by far Jack Benny's best screen performance. Co-starring with him is Carole Lombard, this being her last film before her death. The story tells of a struggling theatrical group in Poland in the face of the oncoming Nazi assault in the late thirties. Laughs and fun-provoking situations run throughout the presentation handled uniquely by the famed "Lubitsch" touch.

This week will also see the start of the new Eskey serial. This season, it will be a killer-diller western starring Lon Chaney, Jr. The title: "Overland Mail." A Laurel and Hardy short and community sing round out the show.

SPARTAN SPORTCASTER

By DAVE PARNAY

Consider the case of the poor Pacific Coast football fans. Even the die-hards have succumbed to constant pressure from the press. With drooping heads they admit that Big Nine football is far superior to the West Coast brand. Lately, however, a few heads have been lifted. What if our '48 intersectional record against the Midwest is worse than it was in 1947 with only Cal's victory over Wisconsin on the victory side of the ledger. The Golden Bear from Berkeley has resumed his grizzly status, they claim, and the Big Nine is due for a surprise come New Year's Day in Pasadena's Rose Bowl.

HOW GOOD IS CAL

That leads us to another question. Just how good are the Bears? If Bear Coach Pappy Waldorf would just compare them with his 1936 Big Nine champs from Northwestern, we wouldn't have to guess. Those Wildcats of a decade ago proved their greatness with one of the most stunning upsets of all time when they beat Minnesota's national champions, 6-0, and ended a famous Gopher winning streak. But Waldorf won't cooperate so we're on our own.

Personally we think that the Bears will defeat their Big Nine opponent in the Rose Bowl. This isn't as far fetched as it sounds. Most fans are aware of the ridiculous rule, insisted on by the Big Nine, which allows a team to play in the Bowl only once in every three years.

This means that undefeated Michigan, again the class of the Midwest, and possibly the best in the country, is ineligible. The two logical contenders are Northwestern and Minnesota. The Wolverines slapped the Wildcats down, 28-0, and Northwestern in turn beat Minnesota. It is fairly obvious then that Cal will be playing a good team in the Bowl but not the best. It also follows that Cal, clearly the class of the Coast, with a few dissenting votes from the Reno gamblers, should be able to cop first place money on New Year's Day.

1948 COULD BE THE YEAR

Doing a little more day-dreaming, 1948, despite its setbacks, may yet go down as the year of West Coast football rebirth. Already the word is going around that the winner of the Nevada-Santa Clara game will get the Sugar Bowl bid. And this is in spite of Santa Clara's loss to Cal, and the bigshot sportswriters' opinions that Nevada's schedule is not sufficient to give the Wolfpack serious consideration for national honors. It is again only my opinion, but I think Nevada's Stan Heath is so good that he and ten cripples could give almost any team trouble.

So leave us daydream. Give us victories in the Rose and Sugar Bowls and then we can all raise our heads again.

'REED' COMMENDED BY SEVERAL COLLEGE LITERARY LEADERS

Letters commending "The Reed," SJS literary publication which made its appearance last May, have been received from many writers and teachers by Mrs. Shirley Goddard, student editor of the magazine, according to Dr. James Wood of the English department.

Among letters which have been received are those of Professor Josephine Miles, University of California, comparing "The Reed," favorably with other college literary publications; Professor Vernon King, Los Angeles City college, commending the magazine for including "war naturalism"; and Professor T. V. Smith, philosopher and teacher at the University of Chicago, who especially wrote his thanks for "Socrates, On The Nature of Wisdom," an essay by Julian Briggs.

Material for next May's issue of "The Reed" is now being gathered, Dr. Wood indicated.

Folk Dancers Elect Buehring President

George Buehring is the newly elected president of the Spartan Spinners, San Jose State college folk dancing organization.

Other officers elected at Tuesday's meeting were: Vice-president, Jack Golden; secretary, Robinette Woodside; and treasurer, Bobbie Rodenborn.

The bus trip to the Portola Festival in San Francisco this Sunday was discussed. All folk dancers wishing to attend the festival are asked to sign up for the trip by Friday; the sign-up sheet is in the Women's gym.

Buehring said that the bus would leave the Women's gym at 8 a.m. Sunday morning. The bus load of dancers is scheduled to reach the city in time to attend the pre-festival dance and luncheon at Oakland's Naval Supply base from 11-1 p.m. Immediately thereafter, the Spartan Spinners will trek across the bay bridge to San Francisco's Civic auditorium, where they will dance from 1:30-5 p.m. Buehring added that the bus will return to San Jose around 7 p.m.

President Buehring stressed the point that the fare for the trip will be under a dollar per person.

Head football coach, Bill Hubbard, graduated from San Jose State college in 1929 after lettering in baseball, basketball, and football for four years.

BAND TO SALUTE U.S.N. FRIDAY

Navy will be saluted by the San Jose State college band in pre-game ceremonies Friday evening, announces Forrest W. Baird, band director.

The band will play "Anchors Aweigh" prior to the "Star-Spangled Banner." October 27 is Navy Day.

Marching musicians will salute the Santa Barbara and San Jose State rooting sections in half-time activities. Featured will be a new arrangement of the Spartan "Fight Song," by Harold M. Johnson, Music department faculty member.

Dolores Arnold, fully recovered from an appendectomy, will make her first appearance as a drum majorette. She joins Pauline Dear-

IRC HEARS COUNT KESSELSTATT; TELLS OF WAR EXPERIENCES

Count Frank Kesselstatt, member of the royal family ruling the independent state of Liechtenstein, in Western Germany, spoke before members of the International Relations club at its meeting Monday night in room 20.

The general meeting was dispensed with to allow more time for the speaker.

Introduced by Marty Morrow, the count told of his experiences in Germany during the last war.

dorff, lone majorette for the past two years.

About 90 musicians will be able to march, estimates Mr. Baird. Due to lack of uniforms, at least ten band members will watch from the stands.

This was his first appearance before an American audience.

During the informal discussion which followed his talk, Count Kesselstatt, told of the friendly attitude of the German people toward Hitler preceding the war. The populace became very hostile toward the leader when the war commenced though, the count added.

Democratic ideas of America, and friendliness of the people he has met, were strongly lauded by Count Kesselstatt. He told the group he favored a union of Europe, championed by Winston C. Churchill.

The count, in Santa Clara valley to observe and study the grape and wine industry, is a large landowner in Liechtenstein and is a nephew of the reigning prince.

At the next IRC meeting, the 'Berlin Situation' will be discussed, Morrow said. Students who were unable to attend the Monday meeting will have an opportunity to meet the count who also will appear.
